

DUKE
UNIVERSITY
CHAPEL

Service of Worship

Fifth Sunday of Easter

May 6, 2007

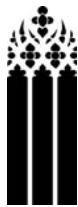

Eleven o'clock in the morning

❖ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ❖

"The New Jerusalem descending from Heaven" by Julius Schnorr von Carolsfeld, c. 1850s

The lectionary passages today portray the new things that God is doing in Christ. The passage in Acts describes Peter's vision of God granting permission to eat ritually unclean animals. Although contrary to the Jewish cultural norms, it allowed Peter to share table fellowship with Gentiles, who were being enfolded into the people of God through their faith in Jesus. Revelation paints a beautiful image of a new Jerusalem, where God will dwell among his people, where death and mourning will be no more, and where all things will be made new. In John, Jesus gives a new commandment, simple yet profoundly challenging, "that you love one another."

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Duke Chapel is a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus; and it is a Christian church of an unusually interdenominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy. We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue, and service.

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENTS

FLOWERS—Today's flowers are presented to the glory of God by Evebell Dunham in loving memory of her husband, Robert Dunham.

TODAY'S MISSION OF THE MONTH OFFERING—Today's mission of the month is Partners for Youth (PFY), a mentoring program for 14- to 19-year old students based in southwest central Durham. PFY strives to create long-term relationships and high-quality enrichment activities that affect every aspect of the students' lives. Their goal is to support and motivate students as they develop their aspirations for the future and the skills they will need to become successful members of the community. PFY surrounds each of the 25 students in the program with four mentors: an adult mentor from the community, a Duke student mentor, a teacher at their school, and an adult mentor as a summer internship. PFY was founded in 1998 as part of the Duke-Durham Neighborhood Partnership, an initiative focused on improving the quality of life in the neighborhoods and public schools near Duke's campus. It became an independent nonprofit organization in March 2004.

TODAY'S GUEST CHOIR—The Youth Choir of First Baptist Church of Greensboro is made up of 50 boys and girls, ages 12-15, who lead music in worship on the first Sunday of each month. The choir is directed by the Associate and Assistant Pastors for Music and Worship, Douglas and Terri Vancil.

NEXT SUNDAY—The university celebrates graduation on the morning of Sunday, May 13, at Wallace Wade Stadium. Please be aware that finding a place to park may be difficult and consider allowing extra time for your journey.

SUMMER CHOIR—Duke Chapel welcomes singers to its Summer Choir which assists in leading worship from June to August, under the direction of Allan Friedman.
