Baptism of our Lord

January 7, 2007

Eleven o'clock in the Morning

≈ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ≈

"Baptism of Jesus" by Julius Schnorr von Carolsfeld, 1851-60

Today we celebrate the Baptism of our Lord. The Epiphany season marks the 'revealing' of Christ, and traditionally marks the three events of the visit of the magi, the baptism of Christ, and the first miracle – the transformation of water into wine at Cana, described by John as 'the first of the signs through which he revealed his glory'. As our response to the baptism of Jesus, we renew our own baptismal covenant with our Lord. We recall the three elements of our baptism – our stripping of all that stands between us and God, our washing in the water which cleanses us and drowns our sin, and our clothing in the garments of righteousness, the new vocation of discipleship. So today is a call to holiness of life and renewed vocation.

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue and service.*
