

DUKE
UNIVERSITY
CHAPEL

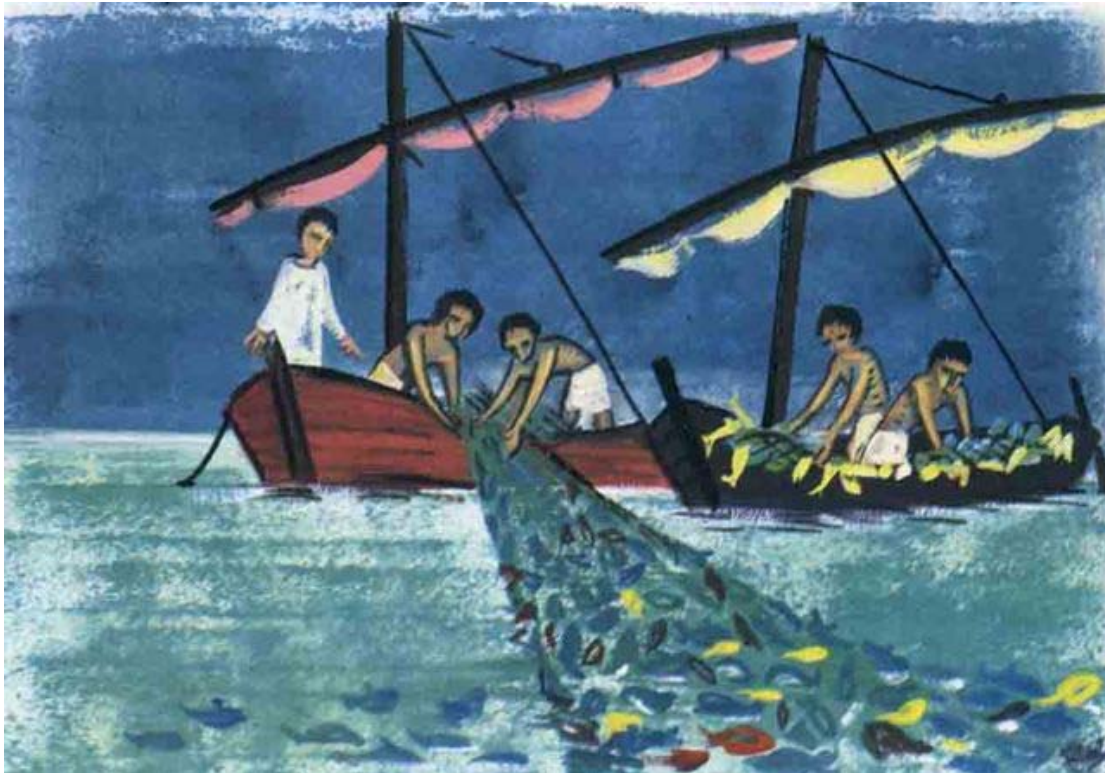

Service of Worship

Fifth Sunday after the Epiphany

February 4, 2007

Eleven o'clock in the Morning

Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God

"Peter's catch of fish" by Eric de Saussure, 1968

In the scripture lessons this morning, each passage involves moments of humility before God. In Isaiah, we read the story of Isaiah's call, and his response is "Woe is me! I am lost, for I am a man of unclean lips, and I live among a people of unclean lips." In the passage from Corinthians, Paul notes that he is unfit to be called an apostle, since he persecuted the Church. As Luke describes the great catch of fish that Simon and Peter draw from the sea, Peter's first response is to bow before Jesus and confess his sinfulness. In each of these texts, the person encounters the overwhelming holiness of God, and their natural response is to sense their inadequacy. Yet God is not limited by human inadequacy. God does not necessarily call those who are equipped, but he equips those he calls. When God calls us, may we also have the courage to say, "Here I am; send me."

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Duke Chapel is a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus; and it is a Christian church of an unusually interdenominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy. We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue, and service.

OFFERTORY

Vision of Isaiah

Alec Wyton
(b. 1921)

In the year that King Uzziah died I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up; and his train filled the temple. Above him stood the seraphim; each had six wings and with two he covered his face and with two he covered his feet and with two he flew. And one called to another and said: Holy, holy, holy is the Lord, God of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory. And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him who called, and the house was filled with smoke. And I said: Woe is me! For I am a man of unclean lips; and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips, woe is me for my eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts! Then flew one of the seraphim to me, having in his hand a burning coal which he had taken with tongs from the altar. And he touched my mouth, and said: Behold, this has touched your lips and your guilt is taken away and your sin forgiven. And I heard the voice of the Lord saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, Here I am! Send me.
—Isaiah 6:1-8

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENTS

LILLY FELLOWSHIP APPLICATIONS—Attention Duke Seniors/Alumni: do you want to spend a year living in intentional Christian community in Durham while exploring and discerning God's call on your life? If so, then apply for the 2007-08 Lilly Fellowship. Applications are available on the PathWays home page www.chapel.duke.edu/pathways. The application deadline is February 16. Contact the Rev. Keith Daniel at kd1@duke.edu for additional information.

FLOWERS—The flowers for today's worship service are provided by the Erlenbach Family Trust.

TODAY'S MISSION OF THE MONTH OFFERING—The Episcopal Church of the Sudan seeks to strengthen its institutions that prepare preachers, teachers, pastors, and administrators for a membership that has grown dramatically despite a debilitating civil war. Duke Divinity School and Virginia Theological Seminary have begun a cooperative venture to support this mission work. The aim is to help the faculty resident at the Renk Bible College strengthen its academic programs. The goal of sponsoring courses in a variety of theological subjects, with teachers coming from Duke, VTS, and affiliated institutions is within reach. The program is bearing fruit: faculty, students, and churches in the USA are eager to meet their sisters and brothers in Christ in Sudan, and we have received several visitors from Renk and Malakal. There are countless needs at the school: staff salaries; funds for student scholarships. The 'college' consists of two meager buildings, no windows, concrete floors, tin roof; a half-built chapel (funds ran out) and a current dormitory made of mud bricks and thatch about to keel over. Please give generously.

SUNDAY NIGHT WORSHIP—Sunday Night Worship will be held tonight at 5:00 p.m. in Goodson Chapel (Duke Divinity School). There will be no Sunday Night Dinner tonight. Next week Sunday Night Worship will return to its regular 7:00 p.m. time.

MORNING PRAYER—Morning prayer will be held at 8:15 a.m. in the Chapel Crypt the week of February 5 through 9, led by Chapel Intern David Hollis. All are welcome to join this intimate time of prayer and reflection. Services run approximately 20 minutes.

WEEKLY WORSHIP—A Service of Prayer and Holy Communion will be held this Tuesday, February 6, at 5:15 p.m. in the Memorial Chapel. Choral Vespers will be held on Thursday, February 8, at 5:15 p.m. in the Memorial Chapel.

BROWN BAG BIBLE STUDY—Are you interested in deepening your discipleship? Join worship coordinator Meghan Feldmeyer and Assistant Dean Craig Kocher for 4 weeks in February to look at the books of Exodus (Moses and Mt. Sinai) and Matthew (Jesus and the Beatitudes) and seek to discover what it means to become a people after God's heart. Bring your lunch and join them on Mondays at 12:30 p.m. in the Chapel basement kitchen. The study will start on February 5. All are welcome. For more information, please contact Meghan Feldmeyer at meghan.feldmeyer@duke.edu.

DEAN'S DIALOGUE—The next Dean's Dialogue will feature Dean Sam Wells and Dean of the School of Engineering, Kristina Johnson. The event will be February 15 from 12:20-1:30 p.m. in the Schiciano Auditorium of the Fitzpatrick Center.

The following Congregation opportunities are open to all:

ADULT FORUM—On February 11, in honor of Black History Month, the documentary film An Unlikely Friendship will be shown. This documentary describes an unlikely friendship that developed between a former klanman and a Black woman activist, Ann Atwater, during the integration of the Durham schools. Ann Atwater will be our guest on February 18. The location will be the Westbrook Building #0012 at 9:45 a.m.

GRADUATE STUDENTS AND YOUNG ADULTS—Following today's worship, you are invited to a covered dish luncheon in the basement lounge of the Chapel. The Student Outreach Committee of the congregation is sponsoring this event at no cost to participants. No reservation is required; just come with an appetite. For easiest access, use the lower side entrance of the Chapel, across from the Bryan Center. We will wrap everything up by 1:30. Can't make it today? Plan now for our next event on February 18.

EVENING WITH SAM WELLS—On Sunday, February 18, at 7:00 p.m. Dean Sam Wells will talk about “The Social Significance of Personal Passion” in Westbrook Building #0013. Discover how his new Lenten book, Power and Passion, addresses the context of Duke Chapel and Durham, and find ways to link our personal passions with the Chapel's overall vision for forging healthy social relationships in the town and region. The book will be available for purchase. All are invited.
