UNIVERSITY
CHAPEL

Service of Worship

Fifth Sunday after the Epiphany
February 7, 2010
Eleven o'clock in the morning

∞ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ∞

"Vision of Isaiah," by Marc Chagall, 1956. Plate 91.

Each of the scripture lessons for today focuses on the call of God. The passage from Isaiah 6 is one of the great call narratives of scripture. It outlines Isaiah's vision of a kingdom that never ends and his willingness to be the bearer of God's message, even if that message is difficult to bring. Paul, in his letter to the Corinthians, emphasizes the grace and call of God that converted him from being a persecutor of the faith to a defender of it. The lesson from Luke describes Jesus' call to Peter. Peter had spent his life catching fish, but Jesus called him to catch people and to invite them to participate in God's kingdom living.

At the close of today's service, the Lord's Supper will be celebrated in the Memorial Chapel located to the left of the chancel. Immediately following the Lord's Supper, a service of prayer for healing will also be held. The service consists of prayers for healing and wholeness, with anointing and laying on of hands. All are invited.

The congregation is asked to remain silent during the prelude as a time of prayer and meditation.

OFFERTORY ANTHEM

In the Year that King Uzziah Died

David McKinley Williams
(1887-1978)

In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high, and lifted up, and his train filled the temple. Above it stood the seraphim: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly. And one cried unto another, and said, "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory." And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke. Then said I, "Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts." Then flew one of the seraphim, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar; and he laid it upon my mouth, and said, "Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin is purged." Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" Then said I, "Here am I, send me." —Isaiah 6:1-8

THANKSGIVING

This morning we give thanks for the Nicholas School of the Environment. We celebrate the ways faculty, staff, and students seek to understand, care for, and preserve creation. We are grateful for their training in the areas of both science and policy, which empowers leaders in a variety of fields to safeguard the fabric of the created order. Ushers bring a small globe to the altar.

In Durham, we lift up all who are creating homes of hospitality for those living with HIV/AIDS. A representative brings forward a red ribbon.

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENTS

TODAY'S FLOWERS—The flowers for the worship service today are given to the glory of God by the Erlenbach Family Trust.

TODAY'S OFFERING—The Mission of the Month is Meals on Wheels of Durham. Meals on Wheels provides nutritious meals and social contact for elderly clients. The combination of regular food and fellowship reduces the chance of premature institutionalization, allows elderly couples to remain in the comfort of their own home, and removes a significant barrier preventing or delaying the discharge of a patient from a hospital or institution. It permits the convalescing process to occur in the familiar surroundings of one's own home. Please give generously.

STAFF ANNOUNCEMENT

The Rev. Gaston Warner, Director of University and Community Relations for Duke Chapel, has accepted a position with ZOE Ministry to begin May 1. ZOE shares the love of God and offers hope to orphans in Zimbabwe, Zambia, Kenya, and Rwanda through training family groups of children in farming, animal husbandry, vocational skills, income-generating activities, education, health care and relief ministries. In 2-3 years, these groups of vulnerable children become economically independent and often begin helping additional children. Gaston says, “I will dearly miss being part of the wonderful Chapel staff and deeply appreciate the faithful vision of Dean Wells.” Gaston will continue to volunteer with the Chapel.
