Service of Worship

First Sunday in Lent

February 25, 2007

Eleven o'clock in the morning

≈ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ≈

"Christ in the Wilderness" by Ivan Nicolaevich Kramskoy, 1873

Today is the first Sunday in Lent, and the gospel reading focuses on Jesus' forty days in the wilderness. The early Sundays of Lent are a wilderness time—an opportunity to go deep into our hearts and the souls of our communities, and to recognize the horror and depth of our estrangement from God. In practicing the disciplines of Lent, such as self-examination and repentance, we seek systematically to put things right. We become prepared to turn to the cross for our hope as Lent progresses. At the Chapel, we mark solemnity of this first Sunday with the Great Litany which combines Lenten themes of penitence and intercession.

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Duke Chapel is a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus; and it is a Christian church of an unusually interdenominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy. We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue, and service.

SHARING OF THE BREAD AND WINE

All those who have become members of Christ's body through baptism and seek to be united with God and at peace with their neighbor are invited to receive communion. Wine is used for communion. The tradition as understood at Duke Chapel is that the Holy Spirit makes Christ fully present in both the bread and the wine. If you receive only the bread, be assured that you are nonetheless in full communion with Christ and the Church.

If you would like to receive individual anointing with oil and prayers for healing, ministers will be in the Memorial Chapel during communion.
