

DUKE
UNIVERSITY
CHAPEL

Service of Worship

Third Sunday of Easter

April 22, 2007

Eleven o'clock in the morning

☞ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ☞

"Jesus eats breakfast with his seven disciples." Artist Unknown, 1593

The scripture lessons today are characterized by pivotal encounters with God. In both instances, the encounters lead to new life and a changed direction. The conversion of Paul in Acts is one of the more dramatic accounts in scripture about the power of God to transform lives—the foremost persecutor of the early church becomes its leading champion. John's gospel describes Jesus' post-resurrection charge to Peter to "Feed my sheep." In this command, the good news of Christ's resurrected life is revealed to be one that is realized in the care and service of others.

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Duke Chapel is a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus; and it is a Christian church of an unusually interdenominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy. We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue, and service.
