

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Service of Worship

Fifth Sunday of Easter

May 2, 2010

Eleven o'clock in the morning

∞ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ∞

*"See, I am making all things new." Revelation 21:5
Photographer unknown.*

Today the Chapel bids farewell to the Rev. Gaston Warner, who has been Director of University and Community Relations since 2006, and is leaving to work for Zoe ministry, an organization that empowers AIDS orphans in Africa. The lesson from Revelation is filled with images of comfort, new life, and hope: "He will wipe every tear from their eyes. Death will be no more; mourning and crying and pain will be no more, for the first things have passed away." The passage affirms the Eastertide theme of making all things new. In the lesson from John's gospel, Jesus describes what resurrection life should be, saying, "I give you a new commandment, that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also should love one another." The kingdom of God is characterized by sacrificial love.

The congregation is asked to remain silent during the prelude as a time of prayer and meditation.

I am a rose of Sharon, a lily of the valleys. As a lily among brambles, so is my love among maidens. A garden fountain, a well of living water that flows like the streams of Lebanon.

THANKSGIVING AND COMMUNION

As part of Duke’s Appreciation Week, this morning we give thanks for all Duke employees whose hard work and dedication contribute to the vibrancy and flourishing of the University. We specifically remember those employed in service roles—housekeepers, groundskeepers, maintenance workers, food service employees, and all those occupations that are often overlooked. Chapel housekeeper Oscar Dantzler brings a uniform shirt to the altar.

In Durham, we lift up those who call the community to a more faithful stewardship of creation through their concern for the environment. A representative brings forward a packet of seeds.

*THE GREAT THANKSGIVING

(Musical setting A, found on page 17 in the hymnal.)

*THE LORD'S PRAYER (number 895 in the hymnal, in unison)

SHARING OF THE BREAD AND WINE

All those who have become members of Christ's body through baptism and seek to be united with God and at peace with their neighbor are invited to receive communion. Wine is used for communion. The tradition as understood at Duke Chapel is that the Holy Spirit makes Christ fully present in both the bread and the wine. If you receive only the bread, be assured that you are nonetheless in full communion with Christ and the Church. You may also come forward to receive a blessing, indicated by crossing your arms over your chest.

If you would like to receive individual anointing with oil and prayers for healing, ministers will be in the Memorial Chapel during communion.

Antioch is located at 1415 Holloway Street.

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENTS

TODAY'S FLOWERS—The flowers for today's worship service were provided by the Elizabeth Lucina Gotham Fund, in honor of Mary Semans' former classmates: Ann Louise Reist Dunlap, Maxine Chambers Egert, Betty Pyle Baldwin, and Carolina Breedlove Reid.

TODAY'S OFFERING—All of today's cash offerings and undesignated checks will be used for an emergency fund for disaster and recovery support for communities in our world that are affected by unexpected and sudden disaster (natural or otherwise). Your generosity enables the Chapel to respond quickly with financial support in times of acute crisis.

TODAY'S CHOIR—The Duke Choral Vespers Ensemble is a select group of singers who specialize in Renaissance and 20th-century motets. The choir is conducted by Dr. Allan Friedman. During the academic year, the Vespers Ensemble sings each Thursday at 5:15 p.m. in the chancel. The weekly services will resume on September 2, 2010.

SUMMER CHOIR—Duke Chapel welcomes singers to its Summer Choir that assists in leading worship from June to August; the choir is under the direction of Dr. Allan Friedman. Regular rehearsals are on Sundays at 9:15 a.m. Call 684-3898 for details.

GASTON WARNER—This morning represents the last day the Rev. Gaston Warner will with us as our Director of University and Community Relations. Since joining our staff in 2006, he has helped the Chapel play a constructive role in the life of the university, through initiatives such as the Deans' Dialogues, and in the Durham and wider communities, through partnerships with many local organizations. We wish him well in his future work with Zoe Ministry, as he fulfills a call to empower AIDS orphans in Africa.

MEREDITH KOEBLEY—Today marks the last Sunday for Meredith Koebley, the Chapel's Divinity School worship intern. Meredith has assisted with the Chapel's weekly services with cheerfulness and grace. She is graduating from the Divinity School and will be married in August. She and her husband, Colin, will be settling in Kitty Hawk, where Colin currently serves as a United Methodist pastor.

KORI JONES—This week we have been pleased to welcome Kori Jones to our staff as the new Community and Black Campus minister. Kori graduated from Duke in 2005 and also holds an M.Div. from Virginia Union University. She is a Baptist who calls Richmond, VA, her home town. Kori will be ordained in Duke Chapel on August 28, 2010.

VISITING THE CHAPEL—The Chapel often has weddings booked on Saturdays and Sunday afternoons, especially during the summer months. If a wedding is taking place, visitors will not be permitted inside. Before visiting on a weekend, please call 681-9414 to learn when the Chapel will be open to the public.

QUESTIONS PEOPLE OFTEN ASK -

WHY DO WE READ THE GOSPEL FROM THE CENTER AISLE?

This was the practice of the Western Church in ancient times, from at least the fourth century onward. The gospel has a special status because in it are recorded the very words of Jesus himself. Placing its reading at the center of our worship reflects this authority—it makes it clear the gospel stands at the very center of the Chapel's faith and life. Like the opening procession and closing recession, the gospel procession displays the pilgrim character of the church. We invite the congregation to turn to face the gospel, as an embodiment of the repentance the gospel asks of us. Duke Chapel has an interdenominational foundation: this is one way we draw on all the riches of the Church's liturgical heritage to enhance our encounter with the living God.

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Duke Chapel is a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus; and it is a Christian church of an unusually inter-denominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy.

We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue, and service.

We invite you to consider joining the Congregation at Duke Chapel. The Congregation is an interdenominational church with a variety of vibrant ministries, including discipleship and spiritual formation (for children, youth, and adults), mission and outreach, and pastoral care.
