Day of Pentecost

May 27, 2007

Eleven o'clock in the morning

✻ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ✻

Today we celebrate Pentecost (the Greek word for the “fiftieth day”). The origins of Pentecost reach back to the Jewish festival of Shavout, which fell fifty days after the Passover. Shavout is connected to the season of the grain harvest, and also to God’s giving of the law on Mt. Sinai. Both of these seasons evoke joy and gratitude for the presence of God in the people Israel. Pentecost marks a new season of joy and gratitude as the Church is filled with the presence of the Holy Spirit fifty days after Easter. The children and youth of the Congregation at Duke Chapel carry streamers in the procession which represent the holy flames of Pentecost. This morning we will also welcome several children into the Church through baptism.

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Duke Chapel is a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus; and it is a Christian church of an unusually interdenominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy. We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue, and service.
