Service of Worship

First Sunday in Advent

December 2, 2007

Eleven o'clock in the morning

∞ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ∞

---

"Bright Candle in the Darkness" by Markus Merz

Advent Sunday marks the beginning of the Church's year. The Advent crown in the center aisle marks the four Sundays of the season. The season of Advent looks to the two most significant moments in the Christian notion of history: the coming of Christ as one like us two thousand years ago, and his second coming at the end of time. Having spent the last year concentrating on the gospel of Luke, the readings now turn for the coming year to concentrate on the gospel of Matthew. Yesterday marked World AIDS Day: the sermon reflects this somber theme.

DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Duke Chapel is a grand building, suitable for hosting major events in the life of the University and its members; it acts as a moderator for the diversity of religious identity and expression on campus; and it is a Christian church of an unusually interdenominational character, with a tradition of stirring music, preaching, and liturgy. We welcome you to our life of worship, learning, dialogue, and service.

SOME ANNOUNCEMENTS REGARDING THE DUKE CHAPEL STAFF

CHAPEL HOSTESS AND STAFF NEWS—The Chapel is pleased to welcome Layne Baker as the new Chapel Hostess effective December 14. Layne brings expertise in guest relations, a long history with and love for the Chapel and Congregation, and a wealth of knowledge about the University and its operations. Layne's appointment will release Mollie Keel, who has covered the hostess desk for years, to give more time to event coordination. Meanwhile Meghan Feldmeyer will be promoted to Director of Chapel Worship effective January 1. In this role Meghan will have increased oversight of all worship services and events at the Chapel.

FAREWELL TO JACKIE—Duke Chapel bids a fond and grateful farewell to Jackie Andrews this month. Jackie has served the University faithfully for 41 years and the Chapel for 31 years. Most of Jackie's years at the Chapel have been spent as staff assistant to Deans Young, Willimon and Wells, and almost everyone who has interacted with them has come to know and respect Jackie's courteous, thorough, and unfailingly efficient response and service. Jackie's last day at work will be December 13. Not only the Chapel staff but the whole Chapel community will miss her. We wish her well.
