UNIVERSITY
CHAPEL

Service of Worship

Twenty-first Sunday after Pentecost

Founders' Sunday

October 5, 2008

Eleven o'clock in the morning

☞ Keeping the heart of the University listening to the heart of God ☞

I have selected Duke University as one of the principal objects of this trust because I recognize that education, when conducted along sane and practical, as opposed to dogmatic and theoretical lines, is, next to religion, the greatest civilizing influence. I request that this institution secure for its officers, trustees, and faculty, men of such outstanding character, ability, and vision as will insure its attaining and maintaining a place of real leadership in the educational world, and that great care and discrimination be exercised in admitting as students only those whose previous record shows a character, determination, and application evincing a wholesome and real ambition for life.

JAMES B. DUKE
Indenture of Trust
December 11, 1924

This morning's time of remembrance in honor of Duke's founders begins at 10:50 a.m. in the Memorial Chapel. Each year near the first Sunday in October, we give thanks to God for the vision and founders of Duke University. President Richard Brodhead will offer remarks on behalf of the University community, and Mary Semans, great-granddaughter of Washington Duke, will offer remarks on behalf of the Duke family. Chapel Dean Sam Wells will lead the congregation through the Litany of Commemoration. The Chapel service will continue as usual at 11:00 a.m. Also, in observance of World Communion Sunday, this morning the choir will sing "For the Bread Which You Have Broken" to the tune BENG-LI composed by I-to Loh.

The congregation is asked to remain silent during the prelude as a time of prayer and meditation.

WORDS OF REMEMBRANCE

A LITANY OF COMMEMORATION

Almighty and eternal God, in whom our mothers and fathers have trusted, we their children, at this time of remembrance, offer unto thee our Prayers of Thanksgiving:

Hear us, we beseech thee, O Lord.

For the members of the Duke family—father, daughter, sons and their spouses, grandchildren, and all others in continuing generations until this very day — who, with concern and compassion, devotion and dedication, and by their generosity, built on a solid foundation, continued a worthy school, and provided for education and service beyond even their dreams and expectations:

We give thee thanks and praise.

For the pioneering and persevering men and women connected with this University—Methodists and Quakers, farmers and merchants, teachers and administrators—who, in days gone by, believed in education and made their beliefs prevail:

We give thee thanks and praise.

For the embodiment of their dreams—from private school to academy to college to great university and founded in hope, continued with sacrifice, growing in outreach, and serving with commitment:

We give thee thanks and praise.

For faculty and staff whose vision was bolstered by their courage, whose patience was tested and found true, and whose idealism was implanted in the hearts and minds of others:

We give thee thanks and praise.

For the ongoing presence of noble ideas—the blessing of eruditio et religio; the freedom for responsible academic research and teaching; the ongoing respect for both the body and the spirit; the pursuit of knowledge in the sciences and the humanities; and the realization that the old order changes and new times bring new opportunities:

We give thee thanks and praise.

For the future of Duke University, established for thy glory and for the enlightenment of the human mind and spirit; for consecration to learning by the young; for the best use of the wisdom of those in later years; for the commitment to growth and enhancement of all persons; for a sense of humor, a spirit of cooperation, and a desire for understanding among all within our community and the world:
We give thee thanks and praise.

And to thee, O God, we shall ascribe, as is most due, all praise and glory, world without end. Amen.

Most merciful God, we confess that we have sinned against you in thought, word, and deed, by what we have done, and by what we have left undone. For the sake of your Son Jesus Christ, have mercy on us and forgive us; that we may delight in your will, and walk in your ways to the glory of your name. Amen.

The minister speaks words of assurance.

THANKSGIVING AND COMMUNION

This morning we celebrate the Department of History and its cultivation of methods and analyses that helps bring the past to life. The ushers bring a book of history to the altar.

In Durham, we lift up those who contribute financially to agencies and organizations that serve local communities and neighborhoods. The ushers bring forward a note of thanks to a donor from a local agency.

*THE GREAT THANKSGIVING

*THE LORD'S PRAYER (number 895 in the hymnal, in unison)

SHARING OF THE BREAD AND WINE

All those who have become members of Christ's body through baptism and seek to be united with God and at peace with their neighbor are invited to receive communion. Wine is used for communion. The tradition as understood at Duke Chapel is that the Holy Spirit makes Christ fully present in both the bread and the wine. If you receive only the bread, be assured that you are nonetheless in full communion with Christ and the Church.

If you would like to receive individual anointing with oil and prayers for healing, ministers will be in the Memorial Chapel during communion.
